Basic Workplace Interpersonal Expectations

Anticipation:

At Fremont Dog Plaza there is an expectation to finish any work that is undone, if you are able and not performing a task. Please be under the assumption that being asked to do simple tasks that are written on the task list is not okay. Working at Fremont Dog Plaza is a privilege, so please treat our place and the community with the highest level of anticipation. Please do not leave a task that can be done the moment you see it for the next unsuspecting person. Failing to follow and recognize task lists or expectations will result in actions as severe as termination of employment.

Problem Solving:

When we approach a task that seems difficult or we are unsure how to complete, always feel free to ask questions from a manager or another employee. Do not ever perform a task that you are unsure how to do. Always ask for help. If you need to make a split-second decision by yourself, please make sure to consider your own safety as the highest priority. Problem solving is not always easy, but please take the time to solve any problem you see rather than leaving it for the next unsuspecting person. If we all take the time to actively solve problems, we will make the workplace a safer environment for the dogs and ourselves.

Attentiveness:

Everyday Fremont Dog Plaza will be active. The highest priority for all employees, during active hours, is to be attentive. We all rely on one another to solve problems and find solutions. Being attentive and reminding people of potential hazards and dangers is key to facilitating a positive environment for the dogs, clients, and ourselves. Always take the time to be aware of your surroundings for the safety of everyone.

Gratitude:

The final mission for everyone within the Fremont Dog Plaza community is to guide with gratitude. We cannot be successful without having gratitude for the next experience. Whatever the experience may be, we must be grateful and guide our actions in a way to show our gratitude to others. Having a little grace goes a long way in every community. The grace of a smile, saying hello, and causing conversation that causes people to feel gratitude but even for a moment, is the least we can do. So, whether you are an employee or client, carry yourself with a level of gratitude that can smile onto others. Show people your happiness so they can feel happy to see us too. Never forget that you are the world to someone out there. Someone loves to see you out with all the dogs of Fremont Dog Plaza.
